

For Immediate Release

DRAGGED, KICKED AND SCREAMING Mister Meredith

The Vault (Annexe). 10th to 31st August 2009 (Not 17th, 24th). 22:15.

A Journey Blighted and Blessed by Sex, Bondage and Religion

Musical comedian Mister Meredith sings, dances and surprises in this darkly comic piece of theatre. Initially conceived as part of the Whatever Sex season at London's The Royal Vauxhall Tavern (host to Graham Norton, Julian Clary and Scott Capurro), Dragged, Kicked and Screaming, directed by Ingo Anderson, is an hour-long self-penned show with musical numbers including his popular Dalek Love Song, Eat Yourself Thin and That Old Time Religion (although possibly not your mother's version).

Mister Meredith is frequently seen performing at celebrated venues such as Central Station, The Royal Vauxhall Tavern and The Village as well as more mainstream places like Volupté, The Pigalle Club and Madame Jojo's.

Mad Fags and Englishmen, Mister Meredith's earlier work, ran successfully at Don't Tell Mama in New York City before transferring to Leicester Square Theatre. David Somerset Barnes joins Mister Meredith on stage as a performer and vocalist of rare talent, known for his work with "bearlesque" troupe The Bears and the nine-piece funk band Funkify.

Topping & Butch, Kiki & Herb and Eddie Izzard blazed the trail that has lead performers from the cabaret scene to reach for the West End to Broadway to Hollywood. Mister Meredith in Dragged, Kicked and Screaming is on that path... journey with him.
